My Coins Count

It's that time a year again! Zion will be collecting change for MCC's My Coins Count. The first collection day will be today, and then the second Sunday in July and August, and finally weekly in September and up to the MCC Fall Festival. Send your coins to the front with the children who go forward for children's story time.

Hannah Yoder graduated June 11 from University of Washington with a Masters degree in Education, with an emphasis in special education. She will be teaching in a grade 3-5 behavior classroom in the Lake Washington School District, outside of Seattle, beginning in the fall. Congratulations Hannah!

Just a note to say "hi" and thank you again for your many years of support of Jubilee Food Pantry. We just passed our six year anniversary (quietly this time) and can't imagine trying to do this without the help of the Body of Christ. Thank you for your efforts, your love and prayer for our family, the ministry of the Good News, and partnership of walking out the Kingdom.

Let there be light!

Let's make this the best VBS yet!

Please keep in your prayers:

- Drift Creek Camp, its leaders, staff, campers and programs this summer, that God may use this ministry for everyone's growth in grace.
- 70 Students of the Toba/Qom indigenous people in the Chaco of Argentina, who are studying a new translation of the Old Testament in their language (Mennonite Mission Network)
- Bluffton College students returning this month from their Cross Cultural experiences. May God bless their times of transition back into school and their home settings (Mennonite Education Agency)

A prayer to carry through the week: "As the demands of the school year ease, help us to relax and find delight in inactivity."
